

AZORIN

Azorin grew up in a large family that lived in the Peruvian Amazon area. He has always had a deep spiritual connection to the jungle world. He studied art at the Lima Beaux Arts School in Peru. While there, Azorin studied under the highly respected Brazilian Amazon painting teacher Souza. His teachings gave Azorin a strong perception of the mysticism related to the world of plants, their teachings and jungle shamanism.

Azorin's special communion with nature is reflected in his paintings. Strong influences combined with a meditative spirit give Azorin's paintings a unique perception of the plant kingdom.

His most recent show is a collection of his art currently on display in Ciudad Juarez.
